GOVERNOR LAUDS RICHMOND'S LOW FIRE LOSS

Disaster Cause Mystery; Many Die In Storm

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(U.P.)—One hundred and forty-eight survivors of the steamship Vestris disaster came home from the sea today.

They were landed in New York, 125 aboard the American Shipper of the American Merchant line, and 23 aboard the Nord Germany Lloyd liner, Berlin.

Tonight 55 more are expected to be taken from the French tanker Myram off Sandy Hook and brought to New York by tug. Tomorrow eight more may be landed from the battleship Wyoming.

The remaining 128 of the 839 persons who started on the Vestris' last voyage have been left behind, still listed as missing, but with no one daring to believe they may be coming alive.

Those who came into port today brought tales freighted with drama and heroism. They talked these with grave charges that Captain William J. Carey had endangered human life unnecessarily.

El Cerrito Traffic Offenders Pay $525

Fines totaling $525.80 were collected in the court of Police Judge J. F. Plank of the El Cerrito police court last night when 14 drivers appeared on charges of violating municipal and state traffic regulations. The largest fine of the night was $250 assessed against Edward Costello, 1230 Tenth street, Oakland on charges of driving while drunk, reckless driving, speeding and illegal possession of liquor. Costello was arrested by Traffic Officer Arthur Thullen Nov. 8, on San Pablo avenue.

A cent a pound for overweight trucks was assessed by Judge Plank when three truck drivers appeared on charges of driving on El Cerrito streets with overloaded trucks. Frank Weir, 1215 Walnut street, Berkeley, paid the largest fine. He was assessed $40 for driving with an overload of 4000 pounds. A Frank Dambach, 4100 Third street, Oakland paid $29.80 and Robert Bunch, 1630 University avenue, Berkeley paid $24.00.

M. D. Finley, 1408 Alcatraz avenue, Berkeley, was fined $50 on a charge of reckless driving. The second largest fine of the night, $20, was assessed on minor traffic violations including: Aldo Ferrarini, $15; Albert Jones $15; A. Williams, $10; E. W. Brown, $10; Eleanor Weisner, $10; Cecil Norton, $4; Mrs. Maurine Lilly, $10; Nick Alimprea $10 and W. W. Bassett $10.

'Train 'em Young', Local Bride's Motto

Brides, in the opinion of Mrs. Charles Jones of 425 Eighteenth street, Richmond, should be older than their bridegrooms. When the bride is a few years older than her newly wedded husband, she can educate him and the marriage has better chances for success, she contends.

Perhaps the idea is a little novel, but Justice of the Peace Harry W. Pulcifer, who married the former Miss Bessie Langford to Charles Jones, Tuesday, thinks that it is a practical idea.

"I am older than he is and ought to know more concerning the way a good husband should behave. It's best to get them young and train them," declared Mrs. Jones. The bride is 25 and the bridegroom 21.

Jones agrees with his wife's philosophy of marriage and says that he wants to be educated. So their marriage is to be on a 50-50 basis.

"If I don't smoke and drink, she won't use bum perfume and chew gum. If I stay home night, she'll look after the house in the daytime. And we'll both help around the house," Jones declared.

HAMMER MURDER TRIAL WAITS AS SLAYER SENT TO HOSPITAL

Robert Butterfield, alias Robert Jackson, admitted hammer slayer of his foster-sister, Mrs. Ludile Howman, 687 Ninth street, Richmond, mother of four children, will be brought before the bar of justice as soon as his physical condition will permit.

This was the statement of Hiram E. Jacobs, deputy district attorney last night, after he in company with Richmond police officials and deputies from the sheriff's office had gone over the scene of the murder near Winehaven with Butterfield yesterday. Butterfield made a statement before Jacobs and other officials in Martinez in which he repeated his admission of the slaying as made on Tuesday night.

Ordered To Hospital Following his trek over the scene of the crime at which he shivered and quaked when he neared the spot where he struck the fatal blow, Butterfield was ordered to the county hospital up on the advice of Dr. E. W. Merritt, who stated that an operation would be necessary upon the arm which the prisoner slashed in his death attempt last Friday night.

Authorities today also established that Butterfield had been making his home at the Carquinez auto camp ground, at the junction of Twenty-third street and San Pablo avenue. According to attendants at the camp the cabin in which the slayer lived had been rented a week ago Monday and that Butterfield kept very few of his belongings there. When he failed to return Friday night attendants of the camp thought nothing of it until yesterday when they were convinced that the missing camper was the slayer.

Repeats Admission The official party which took Butterfield over the scene of the crime yesterday included: Judge Jacobs, Chief of Police Dan Cox, and deputy sheriffs, Steve Nielson and Ralph Harrison. This group was also present in the district attorney's office in Martinez when the hammer slayer repeated the story of how he had driven to the Shrimp camp near the

Boys Marooned On Duck Blind

Two 15-year-old boys spent three hours on their duck blind before they were rescued off the Albany shore yesterday. They are Howard Lee, 1908 Delaware street, Berkeley, son of Capt. Clarence D. Lee, of Berkeley Police department and Don Robin, son of A. F. Robin, 809 Kains avenue, Alhambra, who rowed out to their duck blind yesterday morning. A sudden storm swamped their boat just as they reached the blind.

Their cries for help were heard by Mrs. John Mannerstam who notified Albany police. Sgt. Charles Hardie and Patrolman Frank Davis put off in another boat and rescued the boys.

OFFICIALS OF CITY GIVEN PRAISE

Richmond is to be congratulated by the entire state for its success in reducing fire losses, inasmuch as this achievement helps to protect the material wealth which all constructive agencies of the state government are trying to build up.

This was the message of Gov. C. C. Young yesterday at the celebration held at the Hotel Carquinez to award two silver cups, won by Richmond for its success in reducing fire losses more than any other city in the world in two recent competitions.

The celebration opened with a parade at 11 o'clock in which Governor Young occupied the place of honor and ended with the luncheon at the hotel at which the chief executive was the outstanding guest and speaker. The Governor congratulated Richmond on achieving world supremacy in fire prevention, after being introduced by P. M. Sanford, president of the Richmond chamber of commerce.

"We are all working to build up California and to add to its material wealth and prosperity," he said. "The work of the fire department and the city officials in bringing these two trophies to the city is a matter of statewide importance, as such an accomplishment helps to protect that material wealth."

Fred D. Parr, general chairman, presented Jay Stevens, state fire marshal, who described the fire prevention program which has been under way for several years, and told of the donation of cups to further this work from the late Thomas Ince and Lewis B. Mayer, both motion picture producers. At the luncheon Mayer was represented by E. L. Fullerton of the Mayer organization, who presented the cup to Mayor Mattie Chandler with the congratulations of Mayer, who was too ill to be present.

Channel Will Be Dredged For New Industries

One of the greatest developments that has ever come to Richmond in the line of industry and harbor construction is about to materialize from the long efforts the Santa Fe company, backed by a group of local citizens, has made to carry out its terminal project on the former Mintzer tract, according to reports reaching the RECORD-HERALD. Santa Fe officials, asked about statements that a plan had finally been worked out and that work would soon begin, said that any further information at this time was premature.

It is said, nevertheless, that agreement has been reached whereby the Santa Fe and the property owners across from the Mintzer property will jointly dredge the existing canal, extending about 4000 feet from the Procter-Gamble property, northwesterly to the Duncanson-Harrelson property near the Washington school to a depth of 32 feet. This will connect with the government harbor depth and give berthing space the entire distance for the largest ocean liners. It will also provide acreage on both sides of the canal for the large industries that are now finding it hard to get such locations around the Bay of San Francisco. (Continued on Page 3)

RUSSIA TRAINS YOUTHS

Those of our pacifists who have an over-weening affection for Moscow and its institutions, and the number is by no means small because practically all of the communistic sympathizers in the United States are against national defense for Uncle Sam, will be interested in an article translated from the Red organ "Izvestia" in the issue of September 20. The article is captioned "Military Training in Public Schools" and follows:

"The Moscow Department of the People's Commissariat of Education has issued an order (decree) in which it is prescribed that military training shall become a part of the curriculum.

"Military instructors are being appointed to supervise the new courses of study.

"Military training will be centered in the nuclei of the 'Osoviakhim' (Aero-Chemical Defense) that is organizing its circles for this purpose.

"In all schools 'military corners' are being instituted. The courses of military training, which are compulsory, are scheduled to commence on the Fifteenth of September."

Here is something worth thinking over. Our pacifists in America declare against military training and oppose the training of our high school youth in this direction, giving as a reason for their action that it fosters the military spirit. But these same pacifists are curiously silent when word reaches us that the communist government in Russia is neglecting no angle of military preparation and has now made military training compulsory in the schools.

Now the United States has no military spirit, has never had enough of it for its own good. For that reason we have entered all the wars in which we have taken part, and which we could not well have avoided, almost totally unprepared. This was the case in the World War and in the Spanish American war, where it was not so costly as in the first mentioned case.

But Russia has the military spirit. It's communist dictators are daily preaching war. They are telling their dupes that the capitalist nations of the world are in league to destroy Red Russia and that Russia must therefore be prepared at all times. So Russia goes ahead preparing not only the men but the women and the children. Now it is only fair to assume that with Russia making preparations of this sort, her neighbors will follow suit. In time all nations will be prepared excepting Uncle Sam, especially if we follow the teachings of our own pacifists. Then in case of trouble which we cannot avoid our young men will go into battle unprepared and half trained to face an army prepared from the very cradle. This army might not necessarily be a Russian army but it would be one trained along the same lines. It is easy to see what unnecessary suffering and loss of life such a state of affairs might entail.

Naturally none of us want our boys to go to war. But if the country is attacked and defense is necessary we want at least to give our boys an even chance with the other fellows. Not to give him an even chance would not only be foolish but criminal.

There are doubtless many well meaning pacifists who unable to see farther than the ends of their noses actually believe that preparedness and training of our youth fosters the war spirit in America. We would suggest that they extend their vision somewhat and take a birds-eye view of the present situation in Russia and some of the other countries of Europe.

The Reds and the Red sympathizers who are not so short sighted howl about military training in America and utilize every opportunity to propagandize against it. But they are silent on the question of military preparation in Russia. The reason is obvious. If the "great war against capitalism" which they fondly anticipate ever comes to pass, they want the Red youth well prepared to battle and the youth of America prepared only for the role of victim.

BEAUTY

When people write to me to help them in making themselves attractive I am at a loss as to how to answer them when they give me no details of their personal problems.

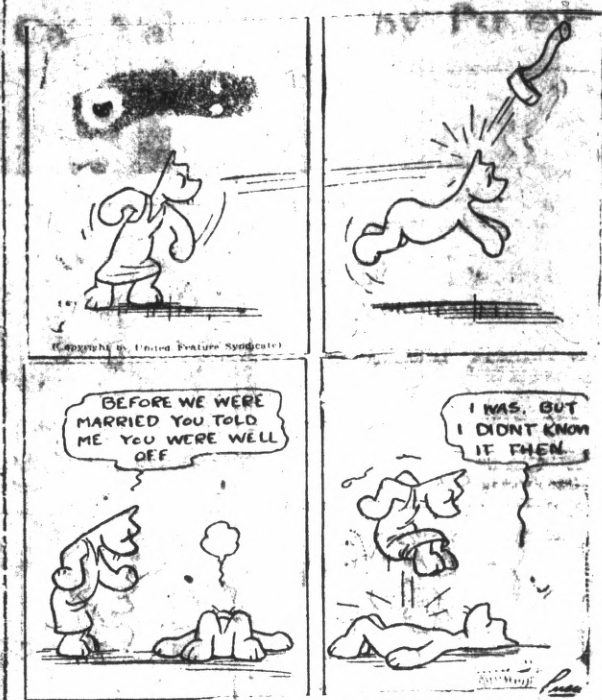

What can I say to a woman who writes that her skin isn't smooth and clear and how can she make it so? Obviously, an answer would depend on her type of skin. Facial treatments vary according to the texture and dryness of the skin and what I might advise for a woman with oily skin might cause irremediable damage to one with dry, sensitive skin.

I am always delighted to be of any possible service to my readers but to help you, I must know what type I have to deal with. So please be more detailed in describing the condition of your skin, hair, hands, etc., when you ask me for suggestions as to their care.

There is one type of woman who has always amused me—the kind who simply has to try every new facial cream or cosmetic offered to the public. It's amusing but it's also rather pathetic when you consider the damage she may do herself with her hit-or-miss treatments. To say nothing of the wear and tear on the pocketbook. LESS WORK FOR MORE PAY SEEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(U.P.)

Business in America has entered an era wherein drudgery soon will end and workers will receive constantly increasing compensation, declares Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company in an interview appearing in the current number of The American Magazine.

Business is no longer a struggle of one firm against another, he adds, but has developed into obtaining a greater knowledge of nature by which costs are reduced, labor saving devices made possible and men and women permitted to make important savings of both time and money.

"The eight hour day has become almost a standard and there is talk of the five-day week," says Gifford. "We are healthier and richer than ever before. Yet it is my belief that we have just started. Machinery will increasingly take the load off men's shoulders in factories. Every one of us will have more chance to do what he will, which means greater opportunity both materially and spiritually."

Gifford declared that new business methods, especially the new practice of conducting ceaseless research has effected a saving of $550,000,000 in the Bell telephone system alone and that telephone users are saved $100,000,000 a year that they would have had to pay if the antiquated methods still prevailed.

"The masses," he continued, "will profit more than the wealthy. If a man has an income of $50,000 to $100,000 a year he is not going to be affected appreciably by what he has to spend for living necessities; but the man who has an income of $150 a month is going to be vitally affected. If we can reduce his budget by as little as five or ten dollars a month, we will have given him worthwhile assistance."

SURVIVORS OF SEA TRAGEDY LANDED

time in his 40 years at sea Capt. Carey gave the order to abandon ship. He never had lost a boat before. He stood at the rail and directed the mates as they had the boats lowered away.

He saw two boats loaded with "women and children first," the first two boats to be put overboard. He saw them capsized and crumpled in the smoking seas.

He saw other boats get away safely with men from the passenger list and members of the crew aboard them.

He saw Lionel Licorish, a giant negro from the Barbadoes, leap into the water and save 16 people by pulling them to the sides of the waiting lifeboat.

He saw Archibald Bannister give overboard and climb into an empty boat which had gone adrift and then coaxed and dragged it a full load of 22 persons.

He heard women scream and saw men quake with fear. He saw human life fade out around him.

And all the time the first ship he had ever lost was settling into the sea.

Refuse to Leave
At last all were gone. One boat remained by the ship's side, a place in it for Captain Carey and another for Mike O'Laughlin, his chief radio officer.

But these places were never taken.

Carey probably was the last man who saw O'Laughlin alive. That gallant officer was last seen still at his key near the master's bridge and the hiss of the radio's spark was still mingling with the hiss of the seas which lapped upon the settling decks.

O'Laughlin probably leaped into the sea and was sucked down by the ship.

But this to Carey, 40 years with one line and this his first disaster, was the end.

Chooses Death
Bent beneath his tremendous burden, he stood at the rail, the survivors said, as the water reached up for him and his ship.

There were life belts and life rings all around him—the things might have saved his life.

But Carey chose the course which many another true deep water sailor has chosen. He leaped into the sea and as the Vestris went under, water Captain Carey went with it.

Cause Unknown

None of the passengers could explain definitely the cause of the Vestris disaster. Officers and crew members could say nothing. Their stories will be told when they cable their reports to Liverpool, the Vestris' home port.

O. L. Mexey, of Richmond, Va., believed a bulkhead gave way, letting water into the cargo. The opinion most general among the survivors, however, was that in the gale the ship encountered 250 miles off the Virginia coast on Sunday, the cargo shifted. Then with the ship listing, seas pouring over her sides and soaked the cargo which held the water like a blotter. The more water was soaked up, the more water was soaked up, the more water was soaked up.

By Monday morning the end of this vicious circle was inevitable. It was just a matter of time until the ship would go down.

Everybody Calm

"At midnight Saturday, we had encountered a storm and by morning the Vestris was listing decidedly. Everyone aboard was calm," Maxey said.

"By Sunday night the list was worse. It was so bad that I noticed bird cages which were hanging in the dining saloon were sliding off their hooks."

Officers, he said, assured the passengers that all would be well. Monday morning the situation was no better and the ship had been hoisted to, listing helplessly in the sea for much of Sunday afternoon and all of the night.

The passengers, according to Maxey, then were ordered to put on life belts and everyone knew the plight of the Vestris was serious—that perhaps death was coming on the next wave.

Finally the order came to abandon ship. Three life boats were launched together. Two were filled with women and children, excepting for the sailors who pulled the oars and the officer who stood in the stern of each boat.

The third was empty, to be available should accident befall one of the other two.

In a moment the third and empty boat was needed, for the first two boats were crumpled and capsized, tossing the struggling women and children into the sea, most of them to die.

Bannister, the negro boatswain's mate, ran to the rail and, never stopping, leaped into the churning water. Swimming with power, Winchaven plant and after an argument with Mrs. Howsman struck her with the hammer, Miss Lydia Haffetto, court reporter took the statement.

As in his statement on Tuesday night Butterfield insisted that his mind went blank after the first blow was struck with the hammer.

The next time he realized anything he was in the vacant house in Winchaven with his wrist seriously lashed, he stated. He identified the hammer with which he asserted the blows were struck.

Following the taking of the statement Butterfield was ordered to bed in the county hospital and a guard was placed over him. He suffered greatly from the loss of blood, exposure and hunger, according to Dr. Merrilthew.

To Speed Case

As soon as Butterfield is able to leave the hospital he will be given his preliminary hearing on a first degree murder charge. Jacobs asserted. This hearing will probably be before A. A. Alstrom, Richmond Justice of the peace.

The admitted slayer has not made arrangements for an attorney and seemed little concerned about his own welfare yesterday, an attitude which he has maintained since his arrest.

Culver City.
Mayor Mattie A. Chandler, City Hall, Richmond.

You and citizens of Richmond have just cause to be proud of your splendid fire department. Permit me to extend my congratulations and heartfelt good wishes on the occasion of winning the Mayer trophy by reason of achieving the best fire prevention record for 1927. It is with extreme regret that I find myself unable to accept your kind invitation to participate, due to my physicians orders. Major E. L. Fuller on will represent me in the presentation of the trophy. I will be with you in thought throughout the entire celebration. Best wishes for continuance of wonderful record.

Sincerely

LOUIS B. MAYER

The Ince trophy was presented to Mayor Chandler by Fire Chief M. E. Ryan of Redwood City.

Mayor Chandler presented both trophies to Fire Chief W. P. Cooper for safe keeping, offered him the thanks of the city administration for the work of his department which had made it possible for Richmond to win two such signal honors in one year.

"The Richmond fire department headed by Chief Cooper has so applied itself to the task of fire protection that we can truthfully say that life and property are safer here than anywhere else," said Mayor Chandler, "and the city owes its thanks to Chief Cooper and his faithful men."

Many Visitors

The celebration brought out as guests Mayors of many neighboring cities and fire chiefs, assistants and others connected with fire departments from places as distant as Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento and Redwood City. The Oakland firemen's band, the Sacramento firemen's band, the Richmond firemen's band and the local high school band provided music in the parade.

Leslie A. Walker, assistant director, navigator and co-pilot, with nine years' active flying experience; with service during the war as flight and navigator instructor at the Pensacola base, and organizer and teacher of the flying school of Culver Military Academy.

Robt. C. Oertel, co-pilot and assistant director; trained in flying during the war, served in France with the 18th Aero Squadron; fourth in command of the successful flight over the North Pole by Commander Richard E. Byrd in 1926; until recently assistant to the president of the Fairchild Aviation corporation.

W. O. Browne, business manager; adjutant of the First Pursuit Wing, air service during the war; executive director of the Southern Division of the U. S. Air Force association under direction of Gen. William Mitchell.

The non-stop flight will be made in an American tri-motored plane, type of which has not yet been selected, Lieut. Beatty said.

Following the non-stop flight from some yet undecided southern port to Barranquilla, Columbia, the aviators will tour the South American continent. The non-stop distance is roughly 1,500 miles.

Betterment of trade relations between the two Americas will be the purpose of the "round-the-continent" tour which follows the non-stop flight.

A motion picture describing the American cities and industries participating in the flight will be shown at each city visited. Booklets, printed in the language of the city visited will be distributed at each showing of the industrial film.

The tour includes 34 trade centers of South America. The total population of the cities visited is 70,000,000. An advisory board for the flight is being chosen from leaders in the principal cities of this country, Lieut. Beatty said.

Good heating and fuel economy come only with heating equipment carefully planned and installed

You know how homes differ in their size and the type of building materials used. There is 10% less heat loss through plaster and board walls as through brick walls. And there is 25% less heat loss through insulated walls. These are some of the facts our staff considers before recommending a heating system. For after all, a furnace must keep your home warm no matter how your home is built.

Only trained engineers can weigh such facts and fit the proper heating equipment to each home.

There is no obligation if you have one of our men look over your home. The facts he finds will be taken back for careful consideration by our staff. Then you'll know the recommendations they make will be good. As we will always be in business we can only afford to recom-

Picture shows how floor-furnace sets in place. Heat is controlled by handy valve.

"Good heating doesn't always mean you must have a large furnace. There are excellent floor-furnaces for heating one or two rooms; there are Radiantfires for the fireplace. The cost of such equipment, like all gas heating equipment, is very reasonable."

Send good gas heating equipment to our customers. And that is one reason why all our recommendations are carefully made. Another reason is, this company knows by years of carefully kept records, that good heating and fuel economy come only with heating equipment carefully planned and installed.

A postcard or phone call will bring a heating expert to your home.

GIANT HARBOR PLAN HERE TOLD

Francisco excepting at almost prohibitive prices.

Plants Assured
Richmond will be assured of getting large plants and warehouses on the Santa Fe land, it is asserted, because of the plan of the company, public mention of which was made at the time of the purchase of the tract, to sell or lease this acreage to large freight producing enterprises at prices based on buying cost plus that of filling and making ready for industry. The company would naturally allow only the bigger enterprises to have the land on this basis, it is said, because it must get a maximum of tonnage to justify it in the many thousands of dollars of expense that purchase of the tract and its improvement entails.

The channel is to be 300 feet in width, it is said. Taking both sides it will give 600 feet of berthing space. The land on the north side faces Cutting Boulevard. The Santa Fe Company, filling promptly its pledge to the Council when asking for the franchise, has already built a spur track of the finest construction. This will be carried on into the Minter property through the San Francisco Bridge company land and to the city owned place ending at Point Noli.

To Start Soon
If no obstacle intervenes it is said that work will begin within 60 days on this project. The Minter tract will be raised about six feet and the lands on the Cutting Boulevard side will also be filled-sloped to bring them to grade.

Robert Easley made the statement sometime ago that he had been interviewed by the Santa Fe about throwing up bulkheads and the news that has now reached this paper fits in with that. A piece of good news in connection with the project is that the El Dorado Oil company may be saved to Richmond. It was known that the officials of this company, on account of delays in providing them a site on the west side of the harbor because of various complications, had rejected the Richmond proposition and decided not to come here. Now it is said negotiations have been reopened and that if all goes well and the Cutting Boulevard improvement goes through, El Dorado company will

Shevlin Files Appeal Notice

MARTINEZ, Nov. 14.—Notice of appeal was filed today through his attorney, Will S. Robinson, by Andrew Shevlin of El Cerrito found guilty by a jury of assault on Mayor Phil A. Lee.

Shevlin was accused of mayhem in biting off a portion of the mayor's ear following an altercation over street work in El Cerrito. Shevlin denied the charge and accused the mayor of being the aggressor. The jury after deliberating 30 minutes brought in a verdict of assault.

MANY ADDED TO RED CROSS IN CAMPAIGN

The second day of the twelfth annual roll call of the American Red Cross resulted in many new memberships being added to the Richmond chapter. The quota of $5000 for the local chapter will make possible the securing of a nurse for visiting service under physician's orders. With the addition of numerous activities during the last year under the auspices of the Richmond chapter, the opening of a visiting nurse service is anticipated for the coming season.

CONVICTS ON FARM HAVE NO GUARD

RHINELANDER, Wis., Nov. 14.—(AP)—On a 400-acre farm north of Rhinelander more than 40 convicts are serving prison terms without guards, without bars and without other restraint from escape than the fear that breach of discipline or a break might result in their return to a small stone cell in the penitentiary.

There is nothing about the big farm across the road from the Pine Lake school house to brand it as a correctional institution unless you note that men working about the field and in the barn are almost all in uniform overalls and jackets. No guard stand over them with a gun, no bars over the windows of the farm house that has been converted into a barracks for the men. There is every evidence that men here work hard, but there is no military precision, no lock steps, no numbers and no silent silence.

The serious business of Wisconsin's honor farm is to raise potatoes and other produce for state institutions. Restrictions placed on prison manufacturing activities resulted in a large surplus of labor at that institution and the agricultural experiment was the result.

Of the 44 men at the farm, two are serving life terms for murder. Most of them, however, are "short termers". To date not a single prisoner has attempted to escape.

Postoffice In Albany Robbed

ALBANY, Nov. 14.—The Albany branch postoffice was robbed of between $500 and $1000 in stamps and money by a burglar who entered the post office and two adjoining establishments here last night, according to a check by J. W. Rupp, branch postmaster and proprietor of the Albany pharmacy. The burglar gained entrance to the postoffice through a wall after breaking through another wall between a grocery store and market. The total loss of the burglary is estimated at $1500.

Let's Get Together On This

How to keep Richmond dollars in Richmond is a problem that has engaged the attention of local business men for some years.

Now for the first time the matter is taken up co-operatively by the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed a special "Shop in Richmond" committee made up of C. S. Renwick, Aubrey Wilson, F. S. Newsom, E. B. Bull and George N. Rooker.

The committee has held meetings with the directors of the Merchants' Association headed by Louis Garfinkle.

A survey is to be made to determine what percentage of Richmond earned money is spent elsewhere and what methods should be adopted to keep it here.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Association are working together and will continue to work together to solve this vital community problem.

Cooperation Will Get Results!
